

Robert Aitken
Director: Restio Energy
Chairman: Doug Banks Renewable Energy Vision (DBREV)

Robert Aitken is the Director of Restio Energy and Chairman of the Doug Banks Renewable Energy Vision (DBREV). Robert is an international consultant in the energy access space, having worked on a range of issues including technology options, policy frameworks, access to finance, service delivery models, socio-economic impacts, etc. His current focus is on institutional strengthening to support greater stability and investment in the off-grid sector. He has worked extensively in East and Southern Africa as well as South East Asia. He has Masters Degrees from UKZN and Oxford.

The DBREV Trust was established to acknowledge the work of Doug Banks and to continue to support his vision by building intellectual capital in the field of renewable energy. For more information on the DBREV please see <http://doughbanks.co.za/>