NON-TECHNICAL DISRUPTIVES

Credit rating movements, exchange rate volatility, political shuffles, legal challenges, foreign elections and local activists all add to the turbulence of the world in which we live and work. How is the energy sector impacted and how should it react? Perhaps, like a super-tanker, the sector has too much inertia to be affected by short-term squalls. What steps should energy leaders be taking to navigate through these non-technical disruptives?

The panel of experts will present multiple perspectives on the topic. They will highlight the key challenges and proposed solutions to better position decision-makers in the context of their own organisational and social environment. The aim of the discussion will be to invite audience participation and to also engage with the expert speakers.

PANEL MEMBERS: Dudley Baylis - Bridge Capital Refco CV; Nandu Bhula - Acwa Power Africa Holdings CV; Wendy Green - Fusion Energy CV
