

Empowering women from Chile to Rajasthan

The Council was delighted to welcome four amazing Women Solar Engineers from Chile, during an afternoon of inspirational conversation on 15 March. Susanna Garcia, Isabel Caripan, Silvia Huarachi and Sunilda Flores, also known as 'Solar Mamas', recently completed a gruelling and rewarding 6 months solar engineering training organised by the Barefoot College in Tilonia, Rajasthan, India. On their way back to Chile, they flew in to London to tell us about their remarkable experience. Read more

The Future of Energy: Interview with Christoph Frei

The energy industry is being shaped by a number of risk factors, including moves toward decentralisation and digitalisation, shifting demand and prices, as well as sustainability as a public policy issue. As these risks shift, so do the opportunities. Early this month in Dubai, Dr Christoph Frei, Secretary General of the World Energy Council, spoke about the future of the energy industry during Marsh and McLennan's Energy Industry Conference. Marsh and their team at Brink News, caught up with Dr Frei following the conference. Read more

Join the Council at Berlin Energy Week!

More than 3,000 participants from government, industry, the energy sector and tech scene spanning approximately 90 countries, will gather in Germany, during 'Berlin Energy Week' in mid-April. The SET Tech Festival, Berlin Energy Transition Dialogue and Event Horizon, which all form part of the Berlin Energy Week, will convene leading players, including 100 high-level speakers in the global energy transition. The week will kick off with the 2018 Start-up Energy Transition Awards hosted by the Deutsche Energie-Agentur (dena) – the German Energy Agency, in conjunction with the World Energy Council.
