

Christopher Ahlfeldt
Sustainability and Impact Advisor
Blue Horizon Energy Consulting Services

Christopher Ahlfeldt has over a decade of experience working primarily in the North American and African sustainable infrastructure sectors. Since founding Blue Horizon ECS he has helped both public and private sector clients identify opportunities and overcome pressing challenges within the rapidly changing energy and socially responsible investment industries.

Mr. Ahlfeldt has also shaped early-stage policy and market decisions for the clean energy sector in a number of markets through client work on renewable energy policy, climate change finance, impact investing & measurement, tariff studies, off-grid/rural electrification, economic development, feasibility studies, and legislative/regulatory reforms in various countries.