

Xolisa Dhlamini

Lecturer in the Development Finance Centre
UCT Graduate School of Business (UCTGSB)

Xolisa is a lecturer in the Development Finance Centre at the UCT Graduate School of Business (UCTGSB). He is a Chartered Development Finance Analyst, a PhD candidate and supervises Masters research at the GSB. Xolisa has been a lead researcher for the African Investing for Impact Barometer since 2015.

He has previously headed the African network of the UN-Supported Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI); a leading global organisation in SRI. Prior to PRI, Xolisa provided investment advisory and consulting to institutional investors at leading firms including Alexander Forbes and Absa. He is a trustee on the Ian Douglas Hamilton Trust. He is also a non-executive director of JustShare, an investor activism organisation based in Cape Town.